Govt asked to withdraw GST instead of giving subsidy on urea

KARACHI: Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of Engro Fertilisers Ruhail Mohammad on Thursday suggested to the government to withdraw General Sales Tax (GST) instead of giving subsidy on urea, adding that this will save the industry from a number of issues. The CEO said that the GST is almost equivalent to the subsidy the government gives on urea therefore; the replacement of the subsidy with GST would not make any difference on the market dynamics. Commenting on the increase in Di-ammonium Phosphate (DAP) prices, he said the fertilizer companies never agreed to fix them with the federal government. "Since we sell imported DAP, we cannot fix price. Similarly, the government should not fix prices because one cannot control international prices of any commodity," he added. DAP porters have increased prices Rs50 per 50 kg bag more in once in recent months due to the increase in international prices. The confusion in fixing DAP prices was created by the Punjab government's notification which had nothing to do with the position of the federal government. In fact, the federal government did not want to fix it. However, now the Punjab government has also conveyed to the federal government that there is no objection on the market determination of DAP prices instead of its earlier decision to fix it, he said.
