Unpaid teachers to protest outside Bilawal House

By our correspondent would start from Sachal Goth on December 25. 'They have forced us to come out on the roads for our rights. We do not want to create problems for the people and authorities of Karachi. All we want is what we are rightfully owed,' said Abo.

This warning was issued by Abubakar Abo, the chairman of the NTAC, which is a committee formed by teachers who were appointed in 2012 during the tenure of former provincial minister for education, Pt. Muzhar ul Haq. He said the provincial government had failed to release their salaries for the past five years, despite repeated requests. 'We [the affected teachers] will continue the sit-in for as long as needed. We will not move until they pay our salaries.'

He said the NTAC was mobilising teachers from across Sindh to join the protest, which would start from Sachal Goth on December 25. After Iqbal's transfer on October 7, his replacement, Dr. Iqbal Durrani, also assured the unpaid teachers that he would continue the policy of his predecessor and resolve their issue. In 2012, the then education minister Pt. Muzhar ul Haq had appointed around 6,700 employees in the Sindh Education & Literacy Department. Four thousand teachers and 2,000 lower staff were from Karachi, while the remaining belonged to Ghotks, Sanghar, Sukkur and Khairpur.
