International moot on urban ecology

KARACHI: Urban problems being faced these days is of disproportionate population expansion, said Administrator DHA Karachi, Brig Shahid, on Friday.

He was presiding over concluding session of an international conference on 'Urban Ecology and Frontiers of Sustainable Development'. The moot was organized by the Society for Ecology, South Asian Council and the Karachi University department of Geography.

A.Q. Khan Institute of Biology and Genetic Engineering. Chairman of Karachi University's Geography Department Prof Dr Jamil Hassan Kazim was the chief sponsor of the conference in which researchers covering various aspects of urban challenges being faced by urban societies were present.

Addressing the concluding session Administrator DHA congratulated the university for organizing an international thought provoking and interesting conference on a contemporary subject of interest.

He was of the view that the present times was due to disproportionate population expansion, saturation of space and completion of a number of utilities/facilities.

The Administrator stated that DHA City (DCK) project launched on Super Highway has planned in accordance with modern engineering and planning concepts and has potential to provide an environment, secure and comfortable living environments to residents. He opined that DCK first planned, sustainable and smart city of Pakistan has been designed to make use of environmental friendly technologies like renewable energy including solar and wind that would serve.—APP
