number, was printed in 2013, but these are not available anymore in most of the schools now. More than 60 per cent of the principals stated that they don't have the capacity to communicate information to teachers and students; monitor attendance and receipt of stipend; and disburse the stipends. The principals consider these tasks additional responsibilities and a burden owing to shortage of time and staff. Additionally, almost all the district education officers reported to the departments that they were overburdened at the moment and didn't have adequate capacity to release the payments on time, transparently and efficiently. Most of the DEOs interviewed, proposed that either they should be provided with additional time or the funds could be dispatched on time. Similar concerns were shown by all the DEOs and most of the principals. On financial management front, the overall system lacks any internal control as the PC-1 outlines no mechanism for it and there is no method of regular reporting. Even at the post office, there were no school-based reports read those were postman-based, which virtually made it impossible to reconcile figures at the school level. It is pertinent to mention here that the government has been implementing the stipend programme since 2007. Initially, it only targeted seven districts with the lowest male literacy rate. In 2008, the programme was extended to the entire province.

possible only in summer -- from June to October. Traditional games like Buzkashi and polo were among the main features of the festival. Wearing local costumes, musicians and dancers performed on the occasion. Buzkashi and polo competitions were held between GB and Afghan teams. Artists from both sides performed common cultural songs and danced on traditional music. Speaking to participants at the concluding day of the event, Chipurson Local Support Organisation chairman Mohammad Ayub said that the event provided an opportunity to people of both Chipurson and Wakhan to interact and also develop trade links. The locals have historically been trading with the people of Wakhan for centuries, mostly through barter trade. The Wakhan valley of Afghanistan's province Badakhshan is located on the border GB, and it is easier for the residents to visit Chipurson for purchasing goods, rather than going to other parts of Afghanistan. Farman Karim, a resident of Gojal who has been frequently attending the festival, told Dawn that the people of Chipurson and Wakhan had been carrying out barter trade for centuries. In summer Kyrgyz traders from Afghanistan cross the Irshad Pass and exchange yaks, sheep and goats with shoes, cloth and garments, kitchen utensils and other products procured from markets in Hunza. The exchange takes place near the shrine of Baba Ghundi.
