observed that there was a well-entrenched culture of intolerance in the country at the moment and no one was prepared to listen to or accommodate the view point of the other adding that social change could be triggered through art and culture. The minister said that in the past, there was impregnable solidarity among the people and everybody was aware of the culture of the different provinces of Pakistan. She said that the film and cultural industries of China, Qatar and Bangladesh were making great contributions to their Gross Domestic Products and likewise Pakistan would also have to pay attention to its film industry. She informed everyone that the Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz had passed an Access to Information Bill as former prime minister Nawaz Sharif desired every citizen to have access to any information that he required from the government institutions. The minister said that as a consequence of peaceful conditions in the country, the playing fields were witnessing the revival of sports activities.

The minister said that the CPEC cultural caravan and exchange of cultural troupes would not only help in promoting understanding about each other culture but they would also contribute to the success of the CPEC. She said that both the countries could successfully implement that mega economic initiative through their collective efforts. The Pakistan National Council of Arts Director General Jamal Shah, senior artists and a large number of Chinese artists were also present on the occasion besides members of the public. AGENCIES

Candidates reply to nomination of Senate election form

in 2017. He maintained that every voter has the right to information under Article 19.

The lawyer requested the court to direct the ECP to seek all the details from the candidates and restore the clauses eliminated from the nomination form.

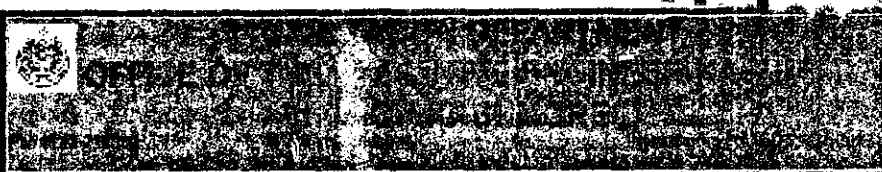

He told the court that clause 60, 110 and 137 of Election Act 2017 are in violation of Article 19 of the Constitution. At least 19 changes have been made in the Senate election form as the blocks of nationality, defaulter and assets have been changed. The court after hearing the arguments issued notices to the relevant authorities. NEWS DESK observed that there was a well-entrenched culture of intolerance in the country at the moment; no one was prepared to listen or accommodate the viewpoint of the other adding that social change could be triggered through art and culture. The minister said that in the past, the was impregnable solidarity among the people and everybody was aware of the culture of the different provinces of Pakistan. She said that the film and cultural industries of China, Qatar and Bangladesh were making great contributions to their Gross Domestic Products and likewise Pakistan would also have to pay attention to its film industry. She informed everyone that the Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz had passed an Access to Information Bill as former prime minister Nawaz Sharif desired every citizen to have access to any information that he required from the government institutions. The minister said that as a consequence of peaceful conditions in the country, the playing fields were witnessing the revival of sports activities.

The minister said that the CPEC cultural caravan and exchange of cultural troupes would not only help in promoting understanding about each other culture but they would also contribute to the success of the CPEC. She said that both the countries could successfully implement that mega economic initiative through their collective efforts. The Pakistan National Council of Arts Director General Jamal Shah, senior artists and a large number of Chinese artists were also present on the occasion besides members of the public AGENCIES observed that there was a well-entrenched culture of intolerance in the country at the moment; no one was prepared to listen or accommodate the view point of the other adding that social change could be triggered through art and culture. The minister said that in the past, there was impregnable solidarity among the people and everybody was aware of the culture of the different provinces of Pakistan. She said that the film and cultural industries of China, Qatar and Bangladesh were making great contributions to their Gross Domestic Products and likewise Pakistan would also have to pay attention to its film industry. She informed everyone that the Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz had passed an Access to Information Bill as former prime minister Nawaz Sharif desired every citizen to have access to any information that he required from the government institutions. The minister said that as a consequence of peaceful conditions in the country, the playing fields were witnessing the revival of sports activities.

The minister said that the CPEC cultural caravan and exchange of cultural troupes would not only help in promoting understanding about each other culture but they would also contribute to the success of the CPEC. She said that both the countries could successfully implement that mega economic initiative through their collective efforts. The Pakistan National Council of Arts Director General Jamal Shah, senior artists and a large number of Chinese artists were also present on the occasion besides members of the public.

observed that there was a well entrenched culture of intolerance in the country at the moment & no one was prepared to listen or accommodate the view point of the other adding that social change could be triggered through art and culture. The minister said that in the past, there was impregnable solidarity among the people and everybody was aware of the culture of the different provinces of Pakistan. She said that the film and cultural industries of China, Qatar and Bangladesh were making great contributions to their Gross Domestic Products and likewise Pakistan would also have to pay attention to its film industry. She informed everyone that the Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz had passed an Access to Information Bill as former prime minister Nawaz Sharif desired every citizen to have access to any information that he required from the government institutions. The minister said that as a consequence of peaceful conditions in the country, the playing fields were witnessing the revival of sports activities.

The minister said that the CPEC cultural caravan and exchange of cultural troupes would not only help in promoting understanding about each other culture but they would also contribute to the success of the CPEC. She said that both the countries could successfully implement that mega economic initiative through their collective efforts. The Pakistan National Council of Arts Director General Jamal Shah, senior artists and a large number of Chinese artists were also present on the occasion besides members of the public. AGENCIES

Candidates reply nomination of national election form

in 2017. He maintained that every voter has the right to information under Article 19.

The lawyer requested the court to direct the ECP to seek all the details from the candidates and restore the clauses eliminated from the nomination form.

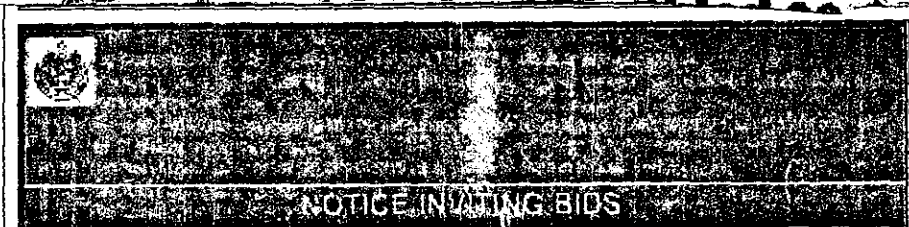

He told the court that clause 60, 110 and 137 of Election Act 2017 are in violation of Article 19 of the Constitution. At least 19 changes have been made in the Senate election form as the blocks of nationality, defaulter and assets have been changed.

observed that there was a well-entrenched culture of intolerance in the country at the moment; no one was prepared to listen or accommodate the viewpoint of the other adding that social change could be triggered through art and culture. The minister said that in the past, there was an impregnable solidarity among the people and everybody was aware of the culture of the different provinces of Pakistan. She said that the film and cultural industries of China, Qatar and Bangladesh were making great contributions to their Gross Domestic Products and likewise Pakistan would also have to pay attention to its film industry. She informed everyone that the Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz had passed an Access to Information Bill as former prime minister Nawaz Sharif desired every citizen to have access to any information that he required from the government institutions. The minister said that as a consequence of peaceful conditions in the country, the playing fields were witnessing the revival of sports activities.

The minister said that the CPEC cultural caravan and exchange of cultural troupes would not only help in promoting understanding about each other culture but they would also contribute to the success of the CPEC. She said that both the countries could successfully implement that mega economic initiative through their collective efforts. The Pakistan National Council of Arts Director General Jamal Shah, senior artists and a large number of Chinese artists were also present on the occasion besides members of the public. AGENCIES in 2017. He maintained that every voter has the right to information under Article 19. The lawyer requested the court to direct the ECP to seek all the details from the candidates and restore the clauses eliminated from the nomination form. He told the court that clause 60, 110 and 137 of Election Act 2017 are in violation of Article 19 of the Constitution. At least 19 changes have been made in the Senate election form as the blocks of nationality, defaulter and assets have been changed.

Opposition replies nomination of candidates in Senate Elections form

The bidder / contractor should have sum over atleast 100 years (bank statement).

observed that there was a well-entrenched culture of intolerance in the country at the moment; no one was prepared to listen or accommodate the viewpoint of the other adding that social change could be triggered through art and culture. The minister said that in the past, there was an impregnable solidarity among the people and everybody was aware of the culture of the different provinces of Pakistan. She said that the film and cultural industries of China, Qatar and Bangladesh were making great contributions to their Gross Domestic Products and likewise Pakistan would also have to pay attention to its film industry. She informed everyone that the Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz had passed an Access to Information Bill as former prime minister Nawaz Sharif desired every citizen to have access to any information that he required from the government institutions. The minister said that as a consequence of peaceful conditions in the country, the playing fields were witnessing the revival of sports activities.

The minister said that the CPEC cultural caravan and exchange of cultural troupes would not only help in promoting understanding about each other culture but they would also contribute to the success of the CPEC. She said that both the countries could successfully implement that mega economic initiative through their collective efforts. The Pakistan National Council of Arts Director General Jamal Shah, senior artists and a large number of Chinese artists were also present on the occasion besides members of the public agencies.

Comments reply in Elections nomination form

2017. He maintained that every voter has the right to information under Article 19.

The lawyer requested the court to direct the ECP to seek all the details from the candidates and restore the clauses eliminated from the nomination form.

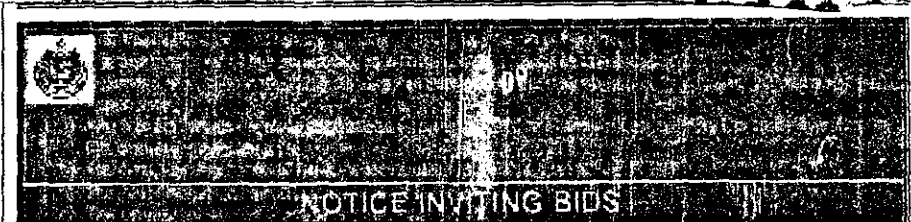

He told the court that clause 60, 110 and 137 of Election Act 2017 are in violation of Article 19 of the Constitution. At least 19 changes have been made in the Senate election form as the blocks of nationality, defaulter status have been changed observed that there was a well-entrenched culture of intolerance in the country at the moment; no one was prepared to listen or accommodate the view point of the other adding that social change could be triggered through art and culture. The minister said that in the past, there was an impregnable solidarity among the people and everybody was aware of the culture of the different provinces of Pakistan. She said that the film and cultural industries of China, Qatar and Bangladesh were making great contributions to their Gross Domestic Products and likewise Pakistan would also have to pay attention to its film industry. She informed everyone that the Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz had passed an Access to Information Bill as former prime minister Nawaz Sharif desired every citizen to have access to any information that he required from the government institutions. The minister said that as a consequence of peaceful conditions in the country, the playing fields were witnessing the revival of sports activities.

The minister said that the CPEC cultural caravan and exchange of cultural troupes would not only help in promoting understanding about each other culture but they would also contribute to the success of the CPEC. She said that both the countries could successfully implement that mega economic initiative through their collective efforts. The Pakistan National Council of Arts Director General Jamal Shah, senior artists and a large number of Chinese artists were also present on the occasion besides members of the public. AGENCIES observed that there was a well-entrenched culture of intolerance in the country at the moment; no one was prepared to listen or accommodate the viewpoint of the other adding that social change could be triggered through art and culture. The minister said that in the past, the was impregnable solidarity among the people and everybody was aware of the culture of the different provinces of Pakistan. She said that the film and cultural industries of China, Qatar and Bangladesh were making great contributions to their Gross Domestic Products and likewise Pakistan would also have to pay attention to its film industry. She informed everyone that the Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz had passed an Access to Information Bill as former prime minister Nawaz Sharif desired every citizen to have access to any information that he required from the government institutions. The minister said that as a consequence of peaceful conditions in the country, the playing fields were witnessing the revival of sports activities.

The minister said that the CPEC cultural caravan and exchange of cultural troupes would not only help in promoting understanding about each other culture but they would also contribute to the success of the CPEC. She said that both the countries could successfully implement that mega economic initiative through their collective efforts. The Pakistan National Council of Arts Director General Jamal Shah, senior artists and a large number of Chinese artists were also present on the occasion besides members of the public. AGENCIES observed that there was a well-entrenched culture of intolerance in the country at the moment; no one was prepared to listen or accommodate the viewpoint of the other adding that such change could be triggered through art and culture. The minister said that in the past, there was an impregnable solidarity among the people and everybody was aware of the culture of the different provinces of Pakistan. She said that the film and cultural industries of China, Qatar and Bangladesh were making great contributions to their Gross Domestic Products and likewise Pakistan would also have to pay attention to its film industry. She informed everyone that the Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz had passed an Access to Information Bill as former prime minister Nawaz Sharif desired every citizen to have access to any information that he required from the government institutions. The minister said that as a consequence of peaceful conditions in the country, the playing fields were witnessing the revival of sports activities.

The minister said that the CPEC cultural caravan and exchange of cultural troupes would not only help in promoting understanding about each other culture but they would also contribute to the success of the CPEC. She said that both the countries could successfully implement that mega economic initiative through their collective efforts. The Pakistan National Council of Arts Director General Jamal Shah, senior artists and a large number of Chinese artists were also present on the occasion besides members of the public. AGENCIES

Members reply to nomination of election form

in 2017. He maintained that every voter has the right to information under Article 19.

The lawyer requested the court to direct the ECP to seek all the details from the candidates and restore the clauses eliminated from the nomination form.

He told the court that clause 60, 110 and 137 of Election Act 2017 are in violation of Article 19 of the Constitution. At least 19 changes have been made in the Senate election form as the blocks of nationality, defaulter and agents have been changed.

Blender / contractor should have turn over atleast 10 years (Bank Statement).
