the investment agreement (IA) and transmission services agreement (TSA) for approval by the Economic Coordination Committee (ECC) of the cabinet.

"This project is of great national importance as it is aimed to evacuate electricity from upcoming coal-based power projects which are located in southern parts of the country," said PPIB.

The federal minister said that the present government has announced various incentives through the power policy of 2015, and while lauding PPIB on its efforts for attracting record investment in the power sector, said that the facilitation extended to the new investors in power sector should be further enhanced to support local and international investors.

that Pakistan had not compromised in response to US President Donald Trump's new Af-Pak policy. "We made it clear that we don't need financial aid; our dignity is more important to us," he added.

"Peace in Pakistan is interrelated with peace in the US that its military solution won't work and dialogue is the only way forward."

India, Asif continued, was playing the biggest role in destabilising the region and Afghanistan was assisting the former as a facilitator. "Militants from Afghanistan are responsible for the unrest in Pakistan," he maintained.
