BRAZILIAN teenage sensation Gabriel Jesus.

But after the youngster's fairytale start to life in English football was rudely interrupted by an early ankle injury, Aguero replaced him and took the opportunity to remind everyone of his enduring quality after Raheem Sterling had put City ahead

Dean Court, City always looked likely to stake their claim as Chelsea's chief rivals for the title by moving back into second place in the table once Sterling slotted in from close range in the 29th minute, soon after he had also hit the post.

Factors such as China slowdown, sour ties with India behind export slide

ISLAMABAD: Pakistan exports to regional countries declined partly due to a slowdown in China's growth rate and partly due to souring relations with India that account for declining exports to India and Afghanistan.

An analysis of top ten export markets of Pakistan for FY 2016 shows that Pakistani exports share to the US increased from 15 percent in 2014-15 to 17 percent in 2015-16 whereas exports to China as a percentage of our total exports declined from 9 percent in 2014-15 to 8 percent in 2015-16.

Afghanistan which was Pakistan's major trading partner, has now turned towards India and figures show that Pakistan's exports to Afghanistan as a percentage of total exports declined from 8 percent in 2014-15 to 7 percent in 2015-16. Exports to the UK increased to 8 percent from 7 percent whereas exports to Germany, France, Bangladesh, Italy and Spain remained stagnant.

Pakistani exports lack market diversification as more than 50 percent of exports rely on only six markets (the USA, China, Afghanistan, the UAE, the UK and Germany). Trade potential remained under-exploited in the regional markets which are deemed to be the natural extension of domestic market.

A major factor constraining Pakistan's exports growth has been the slowdown in the economies for our major importing partners - China and the EU. China experienced lowest growth over the last 25 years. The demand for consumer items from Pakistan like seafood and leather products has also declined as the overall Chinese economy weakened, the sources added.

Strategic Trade Policy Framework (STPF) envisages exports enhancement to $ 35 billion by 2017-18, a target that, according to independent economists, is a pipedream. Commerce Ministry is also facing hardships in finding competent officials who may be able to help develop a viable strategy to increase exports. The government recently announced Rs 180 billion incentives for exporters of several commodities.

Officials in Commerce Ministry told Business Recorder that security situation, lack of international competitiveness, outdated machinery and processes, weak contract enforcement, inadequate investment growth and constraints in regional markets are the oft-repeated reasons for a decline in exports.

According to the Ministry, there are 4 Cs in the market which are as follows.
