PTCL honours its returning pilgrims

Staff Report

ISLAMABAD: Pakistan Telecommunication Company Limited (PTCL) hosted a reception at PTCL Headquarters in Islamabad in honour of its employees from various parts of the country who recently returned after performing Hajj sponsored by the company.

The event was attended by senior officials of the company and PTCL Chief Human Resource Officer Syed Mazhar Hussain.

Expressing his views on the occasion, Syed Mazhar Hussain said, "The PTCL Hajj scheme for employees is a step in the right direction to provide them a fair chance to undertake this sacred journey on the company's expense. This opportunity is being provided purely based on their best performance and through fair and transparent balloting. Every year, 40 employees are selected to perform Hajj which is one of the most important religious and sacred obligations in Islam".

PTCL management, being cognizant of the welfare and well-being of its employees, always endeavors to provide opportunities that can be a source of happiness for them and their families.

EU lawmaker Sajjad Karim calls for debate on Kashmir issue

ISLAMABAD: Member of European Parliament (MEP) Sajjad Karim has argued that the Kashmir issue be debated by human rights experts in Brussels in 2018.

In a series of letters to the coordinators of the European Parliament's Subcommittee on Human Rights, Karim - who chairs the international trade committee's South Asia Monitoring group - made the case for human rights abuses within Indian-Held Kashmir to be placed on its agenda for the coming year, stated a message received from Brussels. The British MEP argued that the Kashmir issue had not been debated by the Human Rights Committee since 2008 and thus warrants discussion, stating that a resolution to the conflict would "benefit all". Speaking on the letters, Karim said, "The letters sent out today to my colleagues here in the European Parliament are ones that I hope will affect their decision when deciding on items for the committee's 2018 agenda". "I find it hard to believe that the issue of Kashmir and the human rights abuses perpetrated within it have not been debated for nearly 10 years now, as the situation has only got worse since then."

It is high-time that this dispute is resolved and at the very least debated by my peers here in Brussels", he said. Karim has been a prominent voice on the Kashmir issue over the years, co-hosting an annual conference - Kashmir-EU Week - earlier this month in conjunction with the Kashmir Council-EU; a Brussels based NGO, which aims to raise awareness of the issue each year. He also chairs the international trade committee's Monitoring Group for South Asia and was the parliamentary rapporteur for the EU-India free trade agreement in 2006 and 2009, where specific clauses were added and adopted by a full plenary session of the parliament at the time. APP
